

Quanta Renewable Energy Services delivers the resources, industry knowledge and experience to support the nation's renewable energy goals. The company's strategic approach and flexible solutions result in custom programs that meet specific renewable infrastructure needs – whether single-service, complete program management or full engineer-procure-construct services.

Quanta is proud that its safety performance consistently exceeds national industry averages. The company vigorously enforces worker safety through well-established corporate safety programs.

Partner with a Quanta company today to experience the Power of One:

Services relative to wind energy include:

- Full asset management capabilities
- Wind asset management advisory services
- Engineering and design services
- Electric transmission and distribution interconnects
- Substations
- Wind system and component life cycle optimization program
- Civil work, including roads and foundation construction
- Maintenance diagnostic/equipment assessment program
- Turbine installation
- Collector systems
- Permitting and siting
- Environmental management
- Commissioning and close-out documents

For More Information Contact:

Peter Lorenz
President

Quanta Renewable Energy Services

713-629-7600

plorenz@quantaservices.com

www.quantaservices.com

Resourceful Flexible Experienced